

U. S. Troops Unescorted Into Berlin

By CARL HARTMAN

BERLIN (AP)—Tension gripped Berlin again today but tempers tapered off. Three Soviet armored cars drove into the Western sector after putting up only token resistance to an American escort and a U.S. military convoy moved smoothly along the autobahn without interference from the Communists.

The Soviet guards going to the Soviet war memorial were waved through Checkpoint Charlie after only a six-minute delay—compared to nearly four hours Thursday. The Soviets, who had previously brandished tommy guns, showed no arms.

West Berliners were hot with anger about the slaying Thursday night of a young refugee at the wall by Communist East German guards. But Mayor Willy Brandt appealed to his people to remain calm.

"The welfare of the city is more important than our hatred of the wall. The wall must go, but until it goes, the city must live," Brandt said.

The United States, Britain and France handed identical notes to the Kremlin calling for a four-power meeting with "a view to preventing further deterioration of the situation in Berlin" and citing the "brutal killing on the Berlin wall" of a refugee.

Shortly after the notes were delivered, the Soviet Union protested to the United States against the stoning of Soviet soldiers in the West Berlin. A Soviet note handed to the U.S. charge d'affaires warned that if there were repetitions "necessary measures will be taken to insure safety of Soviet representatives and soldiers." The measures were not spelled out.

The Soviets have repeatedly rejected proposals for talks since the new crisis arose after West Berliners, enraged by the shooting of a young refugee at the wall a week ago, attacked Soviet buses carrying sentries to the Red war memorial. They shifted to armored cars after repeated stonings of the buses.

The Soviets insisted then—and still do—that they want no escorts despite these attacks, which the Western commandants said were fanned partially by Red agents. Berlin traffic rules call for an escort for any armored car.

During a dispute at Checkpoint Charlie Thursday a Soviet lieutenant talked of reprisals by forcing all American cars traveling into East Berlin or anywhere in Communist territory to accept escorts. But more than 100 U.S. Army vehicles loaded with troops moved through East Germany to West Berlin unescorted today.

Contingents of the 6th Infantry Division's 2nd Battle Group—342 men in 108 vehicles, mostly trucks—cleared without interference through the Soviet checkpoint at Marienborn, on the border between West and East Germany.

Rainmaker Is Still Trying at Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Homer Berry, the rainmaker who is trying to dampen dry Little Rock, said today his rainmaking machine will pull a cold front from northwest of the state by midnight tonight.

Berry operated his silver iodide cloud seeding machine all night near Benton. He said the air over Little Rock contains billions of silver iodide particles today and will bring a general rain by late tonight.

He said the gasses his machine gives off will bawl in the cold front which was hovering to the northwest. The Weather Bureau predicted cooler in the northwest tonight with thundershower activity increasing.

Little Rock Radio Station KLRA has offered Berry $500 if he can produce an inch of rain at the Little Rock Weather Bureau or a general rain over a wider area by midnight Sunday.

Thursday the rainmaker was rained out.

The shower on his way to Benton caught him without covers for his chemical containers and he was forced to return to Little Rock to get them.

He had planned to do most of his seeking at Benton, where clouds were drifting toward Little Rock on a southwesterly wind. After the rain, Berry gave up the Benton leg of the trip and sent his second cousin, Charles Berry, of Little Rock on a cloud seeding expedition to Sweethome, then north of Benton to Pare and west of Benton to Crows Corner.

Berry followed in his car for a while, then returned to his home in North Little Rock to rest.

Other areas began clamoring for his services Thursday.

In Jonesboro, Lloyd Rebsamen, president of the First National Bank, sent Berry a telegram asking the cost of a county-wide rain. Berry said he could do it for $1,200.

Pine Bluff to Vote on Bonds

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—The Pine Bluff City Council has decided to submit a bond issue to Pine Bluff residents to finance construction of modern municipal facilities.

The amount of the issue and the date of the election was not determined.

Edward Stone of New York, internationally famous architect, would design a city hall, a central fire station, police offices and court facilities.

The council has agreed to pay $15,000 for preliminary drawing of structural design and general planning.

More Tremors Expected Near Naples

NAPLES, Italy (AP)—Geologists said today more slight tremors can be expected in the wake of the earthquake that struck with devastating force Tuesday and sent rumbles later over a wide area from Naples to the Adriatic.

The death toll rose to 17. The latest victim was an 87-year-old Naples woman. She died of injuries suffered in a fall down stairs as she sought to flee during Tuesday's quake.

Tens of thousands of Italians still lived outdoors many homeless, others in fear of new shocks. Jacqueline Kennedy, vacationing at Ravello on the fringe of the quake belt, sent sympathy to the victims.

"I pray that all who have suffered may speedily be helped in their great need," the American President's wife said in a message read on Italian radio and television.

As some victims were beginning to relax Thursday, the earth shivered again. Geologists said the tremors were part of a cycle that started Tuesday, but the strength of the shocks is gradually tapering off.

Heavy rains during the past few days added to the misery. Disrupted water and sewage systems also brought the threat of disease, especially typhoid. Health experts rushed to the area set up special inoculation centers.

Ariano Irpino, a hilltop community of 26,000, has been all but abandoned by its residents. It was one of the hardest hit towns. More than 20,000 people are living in the countryside. Many say they will not return to the town until they are sure the tremors are over.

Italian army and Red Cross trucks continued today to carry tents, blankets and food to the earthquake victims. During the past two nights, there were not enough tents to go around, and many villagers huddled in blankets or under umbrellas from sunset to dawn.

Jackson to Vote on Bond Issue

NEWPORT, Ark. (AP)—Jackson County residents will pass on a proposed $154,000 general obligation bond issue Sept. 18.

The bonds would finance improvements at the Newport Air Field, including a new water system, improved industrial sites, improved aviation facilities and construction of a terminal building.

The Federal Aviation Agency ordered the Newport Air Base Commission to close down the water plant several months ago. The FAA said it cost too much to operate and the water facilities were not essential to the operation of the base.

Access Roads

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Vance Brothers, Inc., Kansas City, submitted an apparent low bid of $37,314 Thursday for paving access roads to seven recreation areas at Norfolk Reservoir. The bid compares to the government's estimate of $47,832.

Bulletin

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The U. S. Weather Bureau in Little Rock issued this severe weather forecast today:

Scattered severe thundershowers accompanied by large hail and damaging winds are expected this afternoon from 2 p.m. until 8 p.m. tonight in most of south-west Arkansas. The area involved is along and 60 miles either side of a line from Fort Worth, Tex., to Hot Springs, Ark. In Arkansas, this includes roughly the area enclosed by a line from just south of Texarkana to Fordyce to Russellville and southwestward to Waldron.

Murphy Gets Blame for Estes Deals

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—An ousted farm aid official has told Senate investigators that Undersecretary of Agriculture Charles S. Murphy rolled back a department crack-down on Billie Sol Estes.

But the former official, Emory E. Jacobs, also told the Senate Investigations subcommittee Thursday that an administrative breakdown within the department in Texas was the main reason Estes was able to juggle farm aid programs in his get-rich-quick scheme.

The red-haired Jacobs was fired last April after his name was linked with the Pecos, Tex., promoter in Texas courts of inquiry. The subcommittee chairman, Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said he planned to question Jacobs extensively about testimony of Thomas H. Miller, a high ranking agriculture official, that Jacobs ordered him to write a report last January advocating that the Estes cotton acreage allotments be allowed to stand.

The Senate inquiry into whether political influence figured in the Estes deals is heading toward its final phases, with Murphy, Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman and Estes among the final scheduled witnesses.

Jacobs testified Thursday that Murphy made the decision at a Jan. 6 meeting of top ranking Agriculture Department officials to rescind orders issued two weeks earlier canceling Estes' profitable juggling of federal cotton planting allotments.

Meet to End

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—The Arkansas Municipal Police Association convention ends here today with a pistol shoot and barbecue. During activities Thursday, Police Chief Ray Vick of North Little Rock was elected president succeeding B. C. West of Pine Bluff. Other officers are Otis Harris, Fort Smith, first vice president, Joe Crain, Hot Springs, second vice president, O. H. Alford, Little Rock, treasurer, and R. E. Brain, Little Rock, secretary.

Broilers Sold

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., was notified Thursday that the Department of Agriculture has bought 930,000 pounds of Arkansas broilers for its school lunch program. The total national purchase was 2,220,000 pounds. High Price paid was 31.2 cents a pound with the low at 30.95 cents.

Philippine War Claim Bill Okay

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate passed the $73 million Philippine war damage claims bill by voice vote today and sent it to President Kennedy.

The bill, previously passed by the House, authorizes the U.S. Foreign Claims Commission to pay the money to 88,000 Philippine and American war damage claimants, including 287 corporations with claims of more than $50,000 each.

Kennedy had urged prompt action by the Senate to clarify U.S. relations "with our Filipino friends and allies."

Jacobs Denies Whitewash Deal for Estes

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) Emory E. Jacobs, ousted farm aid official, denied today he ever ordered a rigged investigation designed to whitewash the Billie Sol Estes cotton deals, or discussed such a scheme with Undersecretary of Agriculture Charles S. Murphy.

His sworn testimony before the Senate Investigations subcommittee conflicted squarely with that earlier in the week from Thomas H. Miller, a deputy farm aid director, who said he had received and obeyed exactly such orders from Jacobs.

"I say I did not do it," Jacobs declared.

As to whether he had discussed with Murphy any scheme to send Miller in quest of one-sided evidence to provide an excuse for placing a phony cloak of legal around the Estes cotton deals, Jacobs said:

"We did not, sir."

Murphy himself, in a statement issued meantime at the Agriculture Department, asked that no conclusion or judgments be made regarding his part in the Estes case until he tells his story before congressional investigators. He may testify before the senate's next week.

"All of the matters which I dealt with concerning Estes came to me in the normal course of duties as undersecretary of agriculture," Murphy's statement said.

"I dealt with all of them strictly on the merits as I saw them. No pressures or improper influences had any effect on my decisions."

Can't Explain Beating His Dad to Death

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP) "What I want to do is salvage him if I can," a Chicago mother said Thursday night of her 19-year-old son, who beat his father to death.

The youth, Harold Russell, has admitted battering his father, Dr. Harris L. Russell, 54, with an iron bar in a fit of anger Wednesday morning. The elder Russell was a professor at Sam Houston State College here.

The mother, Mrs. James W. Kay, 41, came from Chicago to arrange for the burial of Russell. She visited her son for 30 minutes in jail.

Mrs. Kay said she would hire a lawyer to defend him.

She and Russell were divorced in 1929, remarried and divorced again in 1953, she said. Mrs. Kay said she felt it was wrong to let the youth live with his father but yielded to the elder Russell's request five years ago.

"Last summer when he was visiting me," she related, "the boy told me he regretted ever going to live with his father in the first place."

Young Russell has told questioners he and his father quarreled over personal habits Tuesday night but he could not explain why he seized the bar and bludgeoned the professor.

Special Program by Baptist Choir

The Sanctuary Choir of the First Baptist Church will present a special program Sunday at 7:35 p.m.

"Christian Patriotism" will be the theme for this program which will include such as time Fred Waring favorites as "Give Me Your Tired, Your Poor," "This Is My Country," and "The Battle Hymn of the Republic."

The choir will be under the direction of Gilbert Thomas, minister of music. The piano accompaniment will be provided by Mrs. H. A. Spraggins and Mrs. Jewel Moore Jr. Soloist will be Dr. Lowell Harris.

Chance for Some Cooler Weather

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The U. S. Weather Bureau in Little Rock said today that there is a chance of cooler temperatures and some rain this weekend in Arkansas.

Scattered showers over much of the state Thursday and Thursday night brought some local relief, but the rain was not enough to ease the drought that threatens crops and livestock.

The forecast called for scattered thundershowers today but increasing cloudiness and warm tonight with scattered thundershowers most numerous in the west, and cooler in the northwest.

The forecast for Saturday was for mostly cloudy and cooler with scattered thundershowers.

The state's high temperature Thursday was a 90 in El Dorado. Overnight lows were in the 70s. The maximum forecast for today was 98.

The rainfall chart showed 1.36 inches at Gurdon and 1.25 inches at Mt. Ida in the 24-hour period ended at 6 a.m. today. Other points:

Fayetteville .17, Memphis .36, Morrilton .40, Mountain Home .13, Camden .10, Portland .05, Warren .07, Pine Bluff .26, Arkansas City .05, Booneville .40 and Little Rock and Dardanelle a trace.

The humidity in Little Rock was 62 per cent at 10 a.m. and the temperature was 89. The Weather Bureau termed that combination uncomfortable, to say the least.

Petition to Up County Salaries

HELENA, Ark. (AP)—Phillips are being circulated in Phillips County to place a proposed salary raise for county officials on the November general election ballot.

The petitions are permitted under the Initiative Salary Act, which allows voters to set salaries for county officials through an initiative and referendum procedure.

At least 15 per cent of the voters who cast ballots in the 1960 general election must sign petitions. They must be submitted to the county clerk by Sept. 5.

J. H. Fortner Dies in California

Word was received this morning of the death of J. H. Fortner, age 84. He died at his home in Long Beach, Calif. He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Roy Ward of Hope, Ark., and a son, E. H. Fortner of Hope, Ark. Burial will be in the Cal-Rosston area. Everyone is asked to bring a basket lunch. The meeting has been called for 10:30 a.m. and will continue throughout the day. Past reunions have attracted as many as 150 persons.

Flushed From Hideout, Had to Make Move

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP)—Jerrell Marlar of Hope, the accused murderer who escaped from the Miller County Jail Sunday, was captured today by Texarkana police in weeds near an insulation plant.

Police Chief Max Tackett waded into the weeds and flushed the convict. Marlar crawled out of the underbrush at the feet of Asst. Chief Howard Giles who clamped handcuffs on him.

Marlar and two other men, Melvin Simmons of Medford, Oregon, and Charles Easley of Fouke, Ark., escaped from jail Sunday morning after slugging a deputy with a bar of soap wrapped in a sock.

Easley and Simmons were arrested Thursday as they walked along a railroad track near Atlanta, Tex.

Marlar was not armed and did not resist. He told officers he had only one candy bar to eat from Sunday until today as he dodged through woods and slept in lumber companies at night.

Two women spotted him sitting in a room in an empty church this morning.

They said they asked him if he was working there and he said he was. The women left and called police and Marlar also left the church. A group of children told officers they saw an unshaven, haggard-looking man walking from the church toward the Texarkana Rockwool plant.

Tackett and Giles went to the plant and began combing the underbrush nearby.

Marlar is accused of the murder of a Bossier City, La., man whose body was found near Fouke in May. Simmons was held for car theft and Easley as an Army deserter.

Marlar told officers he had drunk only a little water since he escaped. That he got from sloughs in wooded areas of the city. He said he hurt his foot when he jumped from a courtroom window in the escape and that he couldn't get far. He said he planned to steal a car tonight and make an escape.

Asked why he hadn't tried to get away from the area earlier, Marlar said "There was so much traffic and so many policemen I was afraid to get out on the road."

No Explanation on Comment

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House declines to indicate whom President Kennedy had in mind when he said more cases involving persons who made big profits would be aired in the Senate stockpiling inquiry.

Press Secretary Pierre Salinger declined comment Thursday on a news story saying Robert B. Anderson and John Hay Whitney are the persons involved.

Anderson succeeded George M. Humphrey as secretary of the Treasury in the Eisenhower administration. Whitney, former ambassador to Britain, is editor in chief and publisher of the New York Herald Tribune.

The stockpiling hearings have concentrated on nickel profits of the M. A. Hanna Co. Humphrey headed the firm before he joined the Eisenhower cabinet.

Kennedy told a news conference Wednesday billions are involved in the stockpiling of strategic materials and that it is important that the American people know how much was paid out and who made money from it.

People who will say anything for a gag should be made to wear one.

U. S. Troops

The first group of 35 vehicles arrived in Berlin after 3 1/4 hours, and a U.S. Army spokesman said no attempt was made to escort them.
The spokesman said UMS. Army sedans also were touring East Berlin today as usual, and he had no reports of any Soviet attempt to escort them.
The Russians threatened Thursday to escort all American vehicles traveling in Communist-controlled German territory in retaliation for American insistence on escorting Soviet armored cars sent into West Berlin.
The 2nd Battle Group unit traveled in 70 vehicles, mostly trucks.
It was returning from training in West Germany.
Units of the 8th Infantry's 3rd Battle Group—also part of the American garrison in West Berlin—were scheduled to leave the city today for similar training in West Germany. West Berlin is too small for large-scale maneuvers.

The Russians have been using armored cars to transport guards for the Soviet War Memorial in West Berlin since angry West Berlin crowds stoned Soviet buses earlier in the week. The crowds were protesting the killing of a young East German trying to escape through the Berlin wall.
Soviet officers held up three of their armored cars for nearly four hours Thursday at the wall before reluctantly agreeing to accept an American military escort. The U.S. command insisted Allied rules for West Berlin call for all armored cars to be escorted as a safety measure and to insure smooth flow of traffic.

An American spokesman said one of the Soviet officers warned that if his vehicles were escorted,
"then every American vehicle entering East Berlin or on the Auto-bahn to Berlin would be escorted."
East German machine-gunners killed a young East German railway policeman as he scrambled through the wall seeking freedom Thursday night. It was the second such slaying in six days.
An angry crowd quickly collected in the French sector at the scene of the latest shooting.
French soldiers and West Berlin police quickly dispersed the crowd, and there was no violence.
The victim of the East German guards was Hans Dieter Wesar, 19, a policeman at East Berlin's Bornholmerstrasse Railway Station.
He fell under a hail of machine-gun bullets, apparently hit just after he had slipped through the barbed wire fence at the station.
Police, searching in the darkness after hearing the gunfire, found him 15 yards inside West Berlin. He died on the way to a

Group Says Tobacco Can Bring Cancer

CHICAGO (AP) — A team of medical researchers says tests have demonstrated tobacco drawn through filter tipped cigarettes contains a tar substance that can cause skin cancers in mice.
The report, published today in the Journal of the American Medical Association, said six brands of cigarettes, including two filter-tip types, were used in the one-year study.
The research was undertaken, they said, to determine if the cancer risk had been eliminated from cigarettes, or reduced by modifications in recent years.
Tumors were induced by every brand of cigarette tested, they said, but the filtered cigarette smoke yielded only one-third the amount of tar in standard cigarette smoke.

There were fewer tumors and a slower onset of tumors among the filtered cigarette group.
Tar yields among standard cigarettes differed by less than 20 per cent, they said.
The experimental procedure consisted of condensing the smoke from machine-smoked cigarettes to obtain the tar, they explained.
The tar was dissolved in a solvent, acetone, and applied to the shaved skin of the mouse in amounts equivalent to 8.3 smoked cigarettes a day.
The tobacco industry, however, contends there is no evidence that smoking causes cancer.

hospital.
Later, at least 30 more shots were heard in East Berlin. These were not explained.

Six Counties in Disaster Area

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Six Arkansas counties today by the state Disaster Committee because of drought.
They are Baxter, Fulton, Izard, Lawrence, Sharp and Stone counties.
The Weather Bureau said scattered showers were possible in the state today—the 21st straight day without measurable rainfall at the bureau's Little Rock station.
The Disaster Committee, meeting in Little Rock, also tentatively approved Randolph County's request for livestock feed and emergency grazing. The committee will consider requests later from Lonoke and Polk counties when supporting statistics are received from county committees.
The governor must certify the designation of disaster area, then the secretary of agriculture must give the final word for the federal aid.

Took Some Doing to Free Him
KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) —
Nothing happened when Aaron Albert Clack, 11, dropped a coin into a popcorn vending machine at a self-service laundry Wednesday.
Aaron slapped the machine a couple of times on its side. Still nothing happened. He stuck his left hand in the chute where the popcorn is supposed to come out.
Two fingers became tangled in the blades of a rotor which is supposed to feed popcorn into the chute.
Police dismantled the machine and freed Aaron. He was treated at a hospital for cuts and severe burns on the fingers.

Pleasure to Have Julie Back in Town

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—It is always a pleasure to have Julie Newmar back in town, because where Julie is, there is action.

The reason for this quickly meets the eye. Julie is 5-foot-10 of adroitly assembled (39-23-39) female. She is also provocative when she opens her mouth. Her cogent comments, punctuated by a lubricant laugh, can be delightfully original, especially when they deal with matters concerning sex.

Julie is displaying her traffic-congesting form in leotards for "Three on a Match," her first film in a couple of years. She has passed up a few movies because producers could see her only as a sexpot. Silly producers: "Were have you been?" she was asked.

"I have been studying at the Actor's Studio in New York. I have been all over Europe, including the Greek Isles. I have been to Russia. I have been in love, and I have been making thousands of dollars in summer stock," she replied.

She explained the various items she has taken courses at the Valhalla of the method actor in an effort to escape into more serious roles ("I am really quite good at playing a nasty woman"), she enjoyed Europe; she found the Russians unresponsive ("I wore an evening dress that was virtually a nightgown, and nothing happened"); she is now out of love; she was a smash in "Damn Yankees" on the moneyed straw-hat circuit.

On other matters, she opined that the twist is fun but unsexy. "Anything that is an exhibition is not sexy," she commented. "I think the slower latin dances are much sexier. Personally, I prefer a slow foxtrot—about two steps a minute."

There was that laugh again. She added that success in the twist depended upon what kind of a figure you had. Figures count strongly in Julie's scheme of things. The sexiest kind of male, she proposed, is the tall, lean man.

"He is the one who appeals to me most—the man who looks underfed and helpless, but he isn't," she said with the laugh. "I can assure you he isn't."

Grasping at straws, I came up with an old dodge: name the 10 sexiest men.

"Cary Grant," she started without hesitation. She gave a slight shudder and explained: "I go off into a blue cloud whenever I think about him. When he smiles, it is as powerful as a Shakespeare love sonnet. He has said, 'I love you, you're marvelous' even before he opens his mouth."

"If I ever meet him, I'll probably fall in a small heap."

Delinquency in Small Towns

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: I enjoy your columns very much but think your ideas about recreation for kids in small towns so much hokey. In a recent column you advised "All the Kids" of Mendon, Utah, to throw a party once a month instead of once a week, it having been their custom to meet every Friday night. The get-togethers were dying on the vine for lack of something to do.

Being interested in young people I know the importance of having them meet often, at a given time and place in anticipation of a constructive, normal "fun" evening together, properly supervised of course.

They should be encouraged first of all to establish their own meeting place and playground on a baseball diamond, tennis court, croquet ground, gym or church rumpus room, depending upon the season. Tournaments in chess, checkers, croquet, tennis, even horse shoe pitching, could be arranged and sponsored with prizes by the local Lions, Kiwanis and Rotarians.

The women's clubs might sponsor sewing and cooking classes, the churches a "Help Night" in which all the town's youngsters would learn how to lend a helping hand to others. The public library staff could be asked to hold discussion groups on the latest reading and travel books; the editor of the local newspaper might referee debates on current events.

Hobby groups could be organized for the children by older people interested in birds, conchology, languages. And how about folk singing and dancing? One could go on and on ad infinitum. Ask your readers for suggestions, then print some leaflets along these lines. They would have tremendous appeal. The point is to keep the youngsters busy and interested. —One Who Believes in Backing Up the Youth of Our County, Saint Joseph, Mo.

Dear One Who Believes: Yours is a fine idea. Any suggestions from other readers.

Dear Helen: I read with interest your column about the worries and doubts of a young wife who feared that the marriage she wants so much to last will fail because of today's hazards such as ever-increasing promiscuity, divorce, cheating and a dwindling national character.

I, too, am full of concern, not for my own marriage but for our children. How could I provide them with an armor which will protect them from such hazards?

The answer came to me early in my married life through a friend who found it practical advice to anyone possessing even a little Christian faith. We are all familiar with our Lord's Prayer, especially those words: "Deliver us from evil." As Christians with faith, we must know that as we ask, we shall receive.

Therefore, whenever I feel doubts assailing me concerning my adored teens, I repeat those words, "Deliver us from evil," then leave them in the care of our Lord. So far my large family (we have 11 children), are happy, good, well-adjusted citizens of our community. Thinking of them has helped me too, for I know that if I go off beam, I'll carry them all down with me so for their sakes I must stand on firm ground if I am to guide them with true wisdom. May you have continued good luck in your wise and helpful column. —Mrs. Franklin Schaefer

Reds Blamed for Tension in Berlin

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP)—Holding the Soviets responsible for tensions arising from the Berlin wall, the Western. Big Three powers called on the Soviet Union today to join in a meeting to prevent further deterioration of the situation in Berlin.

The call for consultation among the big-power representatives—preferably to be held in Berlin—was issued by the United States, Britain and France in similarly worded notes handed to the Soviets in Moscow.

The diplomatic move was a follow-up to Thursday's stiffly worded public declaration by the three powers holding the Soviet Union still responsible under the postwar German occupation agreements and proclaiming the West will not yield on its Berlin rights.

The central theme was that the Soviets cannot one-sidedly change the fundamental set-up or turn their responsibilities over to East Germany which the West does not recognize.

The action came at the end of a week of mounting tension over the divided city, marked by Berlin wall incidents and the Communists' replacement of the Soviet commandant in Berlin by an East German chief.

Today's note repeated a call for a Big Four meeting on Berlin that has been issued by the West on several occasions starting with a note June 25.

Moscow has rejected the Western bid on previous occasions, and there was no indication the Kremlin was about to change its mind

The Western note, as did the public declaration Thursday, contended the responsibilities of the four-power occupation command to govern Berlin still exist despite the Soviet claim that the military governing group has gone out of business.

However, the Western call did not specify that the Berlin meeting be held by military commandants. It left open the question who would talk for the four nations.

Amid the wave of incidents and diplomatic activity, U.S. diplomats held out hope that the Berlin crisis will be kept under control by a combination of Western diplomatic firmness and moderation on the scene in Berlin.

Conway to Vote on Plant Bonds

CONWAY, Ark. (AP)—Conway voters will decide Sept. 27 whether to build a $260,000 plant for the Prince Gardner Co. at Conway.

The Conway City Council set the election date at a meeting Wednesday night.

If approved, the bonds would be issued under Act 9 of the 1960 Legislature. No lien would be against the city and no tax would be levied.

The bonds would be retired by rental fees paid by the company. The bonds would mature in 1983.

Pickets Return to L. R. Cafe

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Negro pickets returned today to a Negro-owned cafe which they claim practices segregation.

The group of men, women and children marched in front of Fisher's Barbecue just as they did Monday and Wednesday.

Mrs. Cleore Robinson, owner of the restaurant, said Negroes and white people eat in the same room in her cafe, but that she does have a private dining room which can be reserved for private parties.

The pickets said they would keep marching until Mrs. Robinson changed what they called her policy of segregation.

Fifth Test Fired

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission has announced Russia's firing of a fifth nuclear test explosion in the arctic atmosphere.

The AEC said the test was conducted Wednesday in the vicinity of Novaya Zemlya island and was in the low megaton range, meaning its explosive force was equivalent to that of one to several million tons of TNT.

"Sure I hit him with a glove! But that's all I wanted—a glove fight!"

SHORTY A 2-Minute Story © 1962 by NEA, Inc.

A skindiver uncovered the murder.

YOU SHOULD LIVE SO LONG By STEVE APRIL

A tourist skindiver exploring the bottom of Lake Harris found a skeleton wrapped in heavy chains and iron animal traps, with the initials, J. W. and D. G. punched in them. The diver brought as many of the traps and bones as he could carry to the surface.

The big house in Lake Harris belonged to Jake (Pops) Webb, the resort's richest and oldest man. Pops, who had not only built the town from a swampy, sleepy village, and had been elected Mayor of Lake Harris a dozen times, he seemed to make a fetish of long living. For the past few years, on each birthday, Pops would be interviewed by local reporters.

This day, as the "youngest 92-year-old in the county," Pops was giving his views on diet, work, sin, and politics, when Joe Davis, chief of Lake Harris' police force, walked into the great mansion, insisted he had to see the old man alone and at once. Webb was furious at the interruption until Davis told him, "Sir, I'm arresting you for the murder of Drayton Giles."

Pops mumbled, "Arresting me? Why your daddy wasn't born when Drayton was around."

"Yes sir, but gossip has a habit of never dying. I remember my grandmother telling me how 70 years ago Drayton disappeared one wintry day while trapping. You had bruises on your face."

"I fell on the ice," Pops cut in.

"That's what you claimed, but grandma thought Drayton caught you robbing his traps, gave you a thrashing. She didn't believe that story you told about Mr. Giles suddenly deciding to go West. Not when both of you were courting Joan Turner."

"Joe, careful how you talk about my dear, departed wife!"

Pop's face was red with rage, but that didn't seem to bother

Police Chief Davis, who after giving the older man a brief glance, went on, heedless of the interruption.

"Everybody here knows you married Joan Turner and, when her father passed on, used his money to drain the swamps, making them into bumper farm land. As a kid, I remember you stocking the lake with fish to attract the tourists, building the first hotel here. You've done a great deal for us and our town, sir, but murder is still a crime even after 74 years!"

"Drayton found you stealing his skins, you bashed his head in with a trap. Next, you dragged the body out onto the frozen lake, cut a hole in the ice, weighed down the corpse with traps and chains and let it sink. County homicide says the bones are those of a man of Drayton Giles' build, plus the traps have your initials and his."

Later, as Jake Webb was being booked in the modern jail he had helped build for Lake Harris, he seemed to have shrunk to the old man he was as he muttered, "I'll fight it in court with the best lawyer! You've no real proof, just an old wives tale!"

"That's your right, sir, to defend yourself in court. But crime catches up with a criminal because he always makes a mistake."

Pops turned to the young police chief. "I didn't rise from a poor farm boy to a millionaire by making mistakes Jake Webb never made a single mistake in his 92 years." Then the shrill voice died as he whispered, as if thinking aloud, "Back then, who could foresee such devilish things as skindivers? Man shouldn't try to be a fish . . . Even if they can prove it, I'll fight . . . show it was self-defense!"

Shaking his head, Joe Davis said gently, "Sir, I guess your mistake was in trying to live too long."

Safety Drug Bill Sails Through

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — A drug safety bill born in stormy controversy two years ago has sailed easily through the Senate without a vote cast in opposition.

Its way cleared by public concern touched off by the sedative thalidomide, the measure was sent on to the house Thursday by a 78-0 vote.

A House committee is holding hearings on a companion bill, similarly designed to strengthen safeguards against the marketing of dangerous and ineffective drugs.

The only sharp disagreement in the Senate debate was over an amendment sponsored by the bill's author, Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn. The Senate rejected 53-28 his effort to require compulsory licensing of drug patents when there is a 500 per cent markup in the price to pharmacists.

Kefauver contended prices of prescription drugs are "outrageously high" and that the only way to assure substantial reductions is to break up patent monopolies by compulsory licensing.

Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, which handled the bill, said adoption of Kefauver's amendment would "destroy all incentive to make investments for drug research" and be "a crime against humanity."

Drug legislation got rolling two years ago when Kefauver, chairman of the Senate Antitrust Subcommittee, investigated the prescription drug industry. Introduced more than a year ago, the bill was turned down to the judiciary committee where it was stripped down to a skeleton.

An outraged Kefauver charged in June in the Senate the "drug manufacturing industry and its acolytes" had "sawn a haymaker and just about knocked this bill right out of the ring."

New life was breathed into the measure, however, when reports from West Germany blamed the birth of thousands of armless and legless children on thalidomide. The drug never was approved for marketing in the United States, but was distributed to doctors for clinical testing and thus given to Americans.

This gave rise to new concern over U.S. drug laws and regulations and after President Kennedy re-entered a plea for passage of a drug bill with teeth in it, the Judiciary Committee took a second look at the bill and restored some of its strengthening provisions.

A key one would permit the government to take a drug off the market without prior hearing if it were deemed to create an imminent hazard to the public health.

The manufacturer would have an opportunity for a prompt hearing afterward.

Wide Country New Series on Television

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—One of the semi-secrets of this busy entertainment factory, in which almost every worker has a corporation of his very own, is the fact that "Wide Country," NBC's new action series, is a Ralph Edwards production.

Edwards' shows, including the long-running "This is Your Life," are highly regarded in the industry. But after long years of Edwards' tugging at the nation's heartstrings with surprise confrontations between famous personalities and their long-lost first-grade teachers and presiding over tear drenched family reunions, NBC apparently doesn't want to confuse the images. "Wide Country" is, all concerned fondly hope, a dramatic program, not a real-life tear jerker.

Edwards became the unlikely producer of the series about a rodeo rider as a result of a corporate marriage of convenience: he had an hour of NBC time sewed up while another show package had an acceptable series to fill it. They got together.

Earl Holliman, a tall, blond young man who lost his native Louisiana accent somewhere between Oil City High School and the Pasadena Playhouse, gets his second star launching "Wide Country." His first was in "Hotel de Paree," a western that petered out after one season. He thinks the new assignment has a beer chance — partly because it was spun off "The Rodeo Dancers," one of the better Fred Astaire Anthology shows last season, and because it isn't a western.
